Council To Ask For Completion Of Branch Line

At Suggestion of Dr. Gershaw, M. P., Council Will Ask For Completion of Contract Entered Into With the Canadian Northern in 1913.

The regular meeting of the town council was held last Monday evening. Mayor Woods was in the chair and the full council was present.

There were a number of visitors present. Among them was R. S. Hodge and when the question of verandah lights came up he stated the company would furnish gas free to any who would put lights on verandahs for the purpose of lighting the streets. He explained that the verandah lights would burn what would approximately amount to the meter rent and that this monthly rent would be deducted from the bills of those who installed the verandah lights.

A letter was read from the school board asking for their appropriation of funds to the end of the year. The request was granted on motion of councillors Broughton and Cox.

A letter was read from the Lacombe home drawing attention to the fact that Mrs. Riley, formerly of Redcliff, had died, and asking for a grant of $1.25 a day for her keep.

Moved by councillor Broughton, and seconded by councillor Champ that as the council is not in position to pay this amount, it make a grant of $50.00 to the home.—Carried.

Answers to the advertisement for tenders for paving in town were read. Four applications were received and after some consideration it was moved by councillor Simons, seconded by councillor Champ, that the tenders be tabled for further consideration.—Carried.

At this stage Dr. Gershaw, M. P., visited council in connection with the completion of the C. N. R. branch line into Redcliff. The doctor explained that the contract for building this line was let in 1912 by the Canadian Northern Co. which was later taken over by the government. At that time the company entered into an agreement with the city of Medicine Hat whereby the city was to perform certain obligations on the part of the company that the branch line would be built. The city, at the expense of several thousand dollars, performed these obligations but neither the old railroad Co. or the present management of the Canadian National had fulfilled their part of the agreement. He pointed out that Medicine Hat was now seriously considering entering action for the completion of the branch line, and he advised that Redcliff join in urging for the completion of this branch line. Dr. Gershaw pointed out that the grade was in good condition and that as the branch was practically completed, pressure should be brought to bear on the proper authorities to have the steel laid through to Redcliff.

There was some discussion as to the probability that Redcliff also had some agreement with the old Canadian Northern in connection with this branch line. A committee, composed of the Mayor, councillor Simons and councillor Baird was then appointed to secure necessary information and petition Canadian National officials and the department of railways to have this branch completed in accordance with the contract entered into in 1913.

Offers for town property, submitted at the last meeting, were considered, but none of the offers were accepted as council considered the prices offered were too low.

An offer of $400 for the building on Third St., known as "The Blue Goose" was also rejected on the same grounds.

The voters list as prepared by the Secretary was adopted.

Warning Issued Regarding Smallpox

Unvaccinated Population is a Menace to Community

Warning has been issued by the Provincial Department of Health to all school boards in the province that smallpox is prevalent in some localities and that similar steps should be taken to guard against the appearance of the disease in their districts. It has been pointed out by Dr. M. B. Bow, deputy Minister of Health, that the danger of communicating this dread disease is much greater in cold weather because of the closer contacts that then occur between people gathered in schools and other public places. A large unvaccinated population under these conditions and the best possible safeguard is vaccination.

Bride Elect Has Two Surprise Parties

Miss Jones Receives Nice Presents at Showers

(Contributed)

Mrs. Bolton and Mrs. Newman were hostesses on Tuesday afternoon at the latter's home. A number of ladies in honor of Miss Agnes Jones, a December bride elect. When the guests were all assembled a rostrum decorated wagon, filled with gifts, was driven into the sitting room by two little boys, Ronald Johnson and Roy Newman, and presented to Miss Jones who was greatly surprised and pleased. Miss Jones acknowledged the gifts in very pleasant words of appreciation. A delightful lunch was then served and a pleasant social hour spent.

Again on Wednesday evening Miss Jones was surprised when a number of her friends walked in and took possession of the house. Music dancing and games formed the first part of the program. For these several prizes were given. After mindfolding Miss Jones several parcels were handed to her to guess the contents, which turned out to be many useful gifts. Refreshments were then served after which cup reading was enjoyed by all.

ALTA. OIL PRODUCTION REACHES HIGH FIGURE

Alberta's production of petroleum in 1927 amounted to 318,741 barrels, valued at $1,183,947. Alberta wells during the year contributed 66.8 per cent. of the total production for the Dominion, which is placed at 476,591 barrels, and the quality of the Alberta product is shown by the fact that it represents 78.2 per cent. of the value of the total Dominion production, which was $1,616,040.

The value of the output of the Alberta wells is over four times as great as that of Ontario's production, her next nearest rival.

PRINCE ARRIVES AT BEDSIDE OF THE KING

After a trip of 6000 miles in which record time was made, the Prince of Wales arrived at the bedside of his father, King George, on Tuesday morning. Shortly after the arrival of the Prince, a serious operation was performed on the King. Latest reports say the operation was a success and that the king is now progressing more favorably.

The presence of the Prince at the bedside of his father appears to have had a quickening effect upon the King, who for several days has been worrying about the safety of the Prince in his rush by boat and rail from Africa.

Let Us Mean it When We Say Merry Xmas

By Dealing at Home at Christmas and Throughout the Year We Will Be Showing the Real Christmas, Community Spirit

The time for Christmas shopping is now at hand and our merchants appear to be well equipped for the trade. Look over the advertisements in this issue and all the workmen bubbled up this Christmas season and showed a little of the honest-to-goodness community spirit by dealing at home, what a difference it would make. What a real Christmas it would be. And one having acquired the habit and carrying it on through the year when which we will mean what we say when we say: "A town is just what it people make it." no more what its juxtaposition to some other place.

Just as "There is a tide in the affairs of men which, taken at the flood leads on to fortune," so it is in the affairs of a town, city or county. Redcliff is now enjoying a period of prosperity and development 16 years hence. If her people take advantage of this and show a little town pride by dealing at home it is hard to say what it will lead to. Let us give it a try anyway; then we can get out and mean it when we say: "A Merry Christmas."

Some Side Lights On The Immigration Question As Given By Hon. Chas. Dunning

The following is an extract from a speech delivered by Hon. Chas. Dunning to the Canada Club in London.

If you ask me what the result of the harvest experiment from Great Britain will be, I say that it will be exactly the same thing as it has been in the past. It has followed the harvest experiment from Eastern Canada. A great many of the men—I do not know how many, maybe half, maybe less than half—will remain. A very considerable proportion of the balance, judging from my experience, will return. After all, the migration theorists—and their name is legion—have their theories on the idea of a man finding it easy to get to Canada and hard to get back. From the point of view of one who has been there without any means of getting back, and when there was no paternal government to help them in getting back, I can assure you that there comes in the life of every immigrant a period of homesickness, a period of heartache. Many say, "The only reason why we did not get out was because we were weak, it was too far" and too much paternalism just at that time is not a good thing.

Now turn it around. Knowing the neighborhood, and having one, I say that if you try to persuade a Jew, a Russian, or to do something he is generally suspicious of you. I can assure you that it will not be found that the best way to get British immigration is to say to him, "Come and look in our country, you are welcome, you don't like us and don't like our country, for Heaven's sake, go back home." I am convinced that the basis of the harvest experiment—that that will constitute a greater appeal to the British than anything else, convey to him that there is an Eldorado there, and that he has only to come over and accept it. Most of them won't believe such a thing, and those who are foolish enough to believe it are going to be the worst advertisement that Canada can possibly get.

I am often asked this question, "What about taking people in and settling them on farms of their own? Is not that the best way to develop a great agriculture in this country?" I am convinced that the experience, like the experience of thousands of others from this country, tends to make me doubtful of any large measure of success attending schemes which have for their object the starting of people of their own in Canada immediately they go out, without their having previous Western Canadian farming experience. Such schemes are most conceived, but they are based upon what old fallacy of the idea that anybody can farm. In these days the business of agriculture is a highly complicated and highly technical business. It requires experience. If you don't think, ask the prime minister—who is, I say, a man who has experience in this line, ask any one of the thousands of business men, bankers, and lawyers in Canada who own farms and who try to make money running them. If it is an easy business, and even a boy will tell you that law is a great deal more respectable.

Chinese Ban Effective

Entry Into Canada Made Almost Impossible Says Official

"Unless some of the important devices of these attempting to smuggle Chinese into Canada have been discovered, not a single individual from China has entered the Dominion since 1923, exclusive of those returning to Canadian dominions established previous to that year," declared W. G. Cowell, investigating inspector of immigration for the Pacific region under the Dominion government, who was in Montreal recently on his way to Vancouver after visiting his former home on the Isle of Man.

Mr. Cowell was reluctant to discuss immigration policies but offered some information. Prior to 1923, he said, there was a law prohibiting Chinese women from coming to Canada. This did much to limit the growth of the Chinese population here, because the Chinese are not naturally prolific. Of the old 180,000 Chinese in Canada now, 60,000 contribute toward Vancouver's population of 500,000, he said, and of all these Chinese complete records are kept, including photographs. But those born here are usually Canadians and are unregistered, except for purposes of facilitating their return from visits to China.

New Estimate Canada's Crops

Revised Figures Give Details Of Largest Crop Canada Has Yet Produced

Canada's wheat crop in 1923 of 50,013,000 bushels has given rise to a revised estimate just issued by the Canadian Government Bureau of Statistics in the largest crop the Dominion has produced. It is 60,500,000 bushels more than in 1922, and 26,410,000 bushels more than the previous record crop of 1921, and 40,000,000 bushels higher than the total yield in 1909.

This year's total of 50,013,000 bushels was produced from 24,114,846 acres representing an average yield of 20.8 bushels per acre. The 1922 crop totalled 40,024,700 bushels from 23,400,184 acres, an average yield of 17 bushels to the acre.

Except for slightly over 21,000,000 bushels Canada's wheat crop is grown in three provinces—Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. These three provinces yielded a total of 47,028,000 bushels, of which Saskatchewan secured 17,578,000 bushels, Alberta, 14,655,000, and Manitoba, 8,575,000.

The 1923 wheat total of 47,028,000 bushels is estimated at 47,000,000 bushels, or 2,300,000 bushels less than in 1922. This year's yield of 47,028,000 bushels is the highest on record. It is 37,514,000 bushels higher than 1921. The average yield per acre this year was 27.8 bushels. Five gave an aggregate yield in 1923 of 463,000 bushels, or 100 bushels below the 1922 total. The yield per acre averaged 17.4 bushels.

Livestock Train Travels Over Canadian National

Sheep and Swine Problems Will Be Discussed

Thirty-two rural districts in Saskatchewan will be visited by the special livestock train being organized by the Canadian National Railway. The train consists of ten cars, of which one is used for staff quarters, and one for lectures. These cars are equipped and carried free of charge by the Canadian National Railway, and are directed by the Dominion Department of Agriculture in co-operation with the Dominion Live Stock Branch, the Live Stock Commission, the Dominion Department of Agriculture, and the Canadian Meat Packers and the Saskatchewan Sheep and Swine Industry Association. G. R. Robertson, Live Stock Commissioner for Saskatchewan, is in charge of the train.

The lectures deal with the breeding and feeding of sheep and swine, and farmers are invited to discuss their problems in raising livestock. A special feature is the showing of educational motion pictures.

The train will leave on November 14th, for Balcarres, the first stop. The last halt takes place at Estherville on December 20th.

Quebec Farmers Receive High Grade

Eight hundred choice ewe lambs have been selected by the Federal and Provincial Departments of Agriculture and sold to the farmers in the Province of Quebec. This fall, the lambs are the offspring of improved sires and have been distributed at the rate of 1,000 to 1,500 a year for several years past for the improvement of stock. The cost to the farmer is from $10 to $15 a head.

Perhaps what is lacking in solving the traffic problem these days is horse sense.

IN THE LAND OF EVANGELINE

Tourist travel through beautiful Nova Scotia is annually increasing by leaps and bounds. Every autumn blossoms time, when the Annapolis Valley is a veritable fairy land until the last big game hunter leaves in the late fall, a steady stream of admiring visitors wander through the highways and valleys of Nova Scotia to Halifax. This new station of the Dominion Atlantic Railway at Grand Pré, on the edge of the Grand Pré Memorial Park, is testimony to the appeal of Longfellow's immortal Evangeline to the hearts of the Continent and the world as pilgrims to the scene of the tragic Acadian Expulsion.

Many Letters are Evidence of Appreciation of Canadian Hospitality by American Tourists

The end of the tourist season in which Canada has ever experienced has brought many letters of appreciation of Canadian courtesy and hospitality, says the Department of the Interior through its Natural Resources Intelligence Service. This service, which is in close contact with the tourist trade and has handled many thousands of enquiries for information on Canada, is happy to broadcast the news that practically no complaints have been received this season of unfair treatment of the tourists.

A great deal of the correspondence relates to the location of camps or cabins for fishing and hunting. The service has been instrumental in directing enquiries as to where to outfit and obtain guides in every province. The correspondence indicates that the percentage is increasing annually of persons who want to linger in Canada and have a stake in the country in a lodge or cabin to which they can return each year. Assistance rendered them in choosing suitable locations is most gratefully acknowledged.

The Natural Resources Intelligence Service of the Department of the Interior, in addition to sending out maps and tourist literature sent to tourists, is planning to visit the Dominion, a leader in "How to Enter Canada" in which the Canadian Customs regulations are briefly outlined. Motor vehicle and tourist guides are also sent in order that these may be filled in by the tourist and thus expedite his passage through the border. All these helps are much appreciated, and the letters indicate a uniformity of opinion that the delay experienced at border points is at a minimum in comparison with the observations of the regulations.

A member of a fishing party that had visited the Rainy Lake District wrote: "We were particularly impressed by the courtesy of the Canadian Indians. Everyone was friendly, cordial and very willing to help us in any way, shape or manner we could possibly require."

Another correspondent says: "I have just returned from a very pleasant tour of Canada and was very much impressed with the beauty of the place, the good roads, the courteous treatment of the people, and the very moderate prices charged the tourists."

of many outings in Canada. The service has been instrumental in directing enquiries as to where to outfit and obtain guides in every province. The correspondence indicates that the percentage is increasing annually of persons who want to linger in Canada and have a stake in the country in a lodge or cabin to which they can return each year. Assistance rendered them in choosing suitable locations is most gratefully acknowledged.

The Natural Resources Intelligence Service of the Department of the Interior, in addition to sending out maps and tourist literature sent to tourists, is planning to visit the Dominion, a leader in "How to Enter Canada" in which the Canadian Customs regulations are briefly outlined. Motor vehicle and tourist guides are also sent in order that these may be filled in by the tourist and thus expedite his passage through the border. All these helps are much appreciated, and the letters indicate a uniformity of opinion that the delay experienced at border points is at a minimum in comparison with the observations of the regulations.

A member of a fishing party that had visited the Rainy Lake District wrote: "We were particularly impressed by the courtesy of the Canadian Indians. Everyone was friendly, cordial and very willing to help us in any way, shape or manner we could possibly require."

Another correspondent says: "I have just returned from a very pleasant tour of Canada and was very much impressed with the beauty of the place, the good roads, the courteous treatment of the people, and the very moderate prices charged the tourists."

Here and There

(111) The Maritime Livestock Market was organized in March, 1927, to market Maritime livestock—mostly hogs, cattle and some cattle—for 7,000 members of over eighty clubs in the three Maritime Provinces. The report of the first year shows $15,127 received for 25,417 hogs, 19,919 hogs, 20 calves and 414 calves.

An extension to the air express services maintained by the Canadian Pacific Express Company has been announced, and a new air line will be opened early in September between New York, via Albany, and Montreal. Lines are already operating between St. Louis, Montreal, Toronto, and Ottawa.

A name of unusual distinction will be added to the Canadian Pacific's Royal Family of ocean steamships when the fourth 20,000 ton vessel of the new "Duchess" class is launched in Scotland. She will be named the "Duchess of York," and will be christened by Her Royal Highness the Duchess of York herself, the ship's name being recently changed from the "Duchess of Cornwall."

Despite the doubts of nervous motorists, the grimly bear is more attracted by the sight of a Buckleberry bush or a stream full of fish than by the sight of a juicy specimen of humanity, and the aptitude of the Buckleberries now in British Columbia will probably contribute to a successful hunting season during the month of September and the early part of October.

Fort William, Ontario.—Three grain elevator corporations with large interests at the head of the Lake are involved in a merger of several powerful Canadian terminal and line elevator companies, the new company being known as the Canadian Consolidated Grain Company. A total of 15,000 bushels of elevator capacity will be owned and operated by the new company.

Betty and Buster Bruin, two little black bear cubs, have sailed from Montreal for Italy where they will be presented to the Margherita di Savoia, the famous Italian round-the-world flyer. They are mostly babies, scarcely larger than a child's toy teddy bear, and of an amiable disposition. They were obtained by Mr. E. Remondini of Montreal, through the General Tourist Department of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and are similar to the little bears sent over by him a few years ago to St. Louis.

The Dominion Government is active in for pigeon breeding with the object of training these birds for purposes of communication. The Department of National Defence is in charge of the work. The Civil Service Commission has announced an open competitive examination for a pigeon-loft manager in connection with the civil Government air operations of the Department of National Defence, to organize and administer a pigeon communication service.

The Canada Goose makes remarkable migratory flights but it is not generally known that civilization has so far affected his habits that sometimes he travels by railway. A pair of wild geese stopping this morning at the Windsor Station, Montreal, under the provincial wing of the Canadian Pacific Express in a specially constructed crate. There are a number of bird sanctuaries throughout Canada and the United States where protected game are kept to preserve their numbers that all is safe and secure for them to stop and feed on their flights north and south.

Level Crossing Protection

Federal Government To Approve Large Sum For This Purpose

During Next Two Years
Appropriations totalling $2,000,000 for level crossing improvements will be made by the federal government during the next two years, Mr. C. A. Dunning, minister of railways, has announced. The first instalment of $200,000 will be provided at the forthcoming session of parliament.

Limitations which restricted the application of the grade crossing fund were removed at the last session, Mr. Dunning pointed out, and the further sum of $1,800,000 has been made available. This represents the unpaid balance from the $4,000,000 contributed by the government.

So far in 1928, railroads and municipalities have spent almost as much in level crossing protection as they did in the whole of the preceding 20 years, Mr. Dunning declared.

The railroads have spent $2,744,000, as compared with $2,250,000 in the 20-year period ending December 31, 1917. The municipalities contributed $2,000,000 in comparison.

For the 20 years, the latter figure equals $991,000 spent by the provincial governments.

Grade crossings omitted from the fund this year number 102, bringing the total to 1,880 since 1909. It is estimated that there are 30,102 crossings in Canada, of which 25,591 are rural and 4,511 urban.

Crossing accidents during the first nine months of this year were 242 despite redoubled efforts to cope with the situation. For the whole of 1927 the figure was 310.

The fund first became available on April 1, 1909, and under the administration of the Dominion railway way board. The board has power to make orders for the protection of the public at railway crossings and to apportion the cost as between the federal fund, the railways and the municipalities.

The maximum payment from the fund has been raised from $25,000 to $100,000 on crossing costing on a 40 per cent. basis.

Eckener Changed His Mind

Grat Zepplin's Captain Was Greatly Opposed To Airships

According to the remarks of an intimate friend, Dr. Eckener, who piloted the Graf Zepppelin across the Atlantic, has not always had such absolute faith in airships.

For a long time, on the contrary, he was their severest critic. But one day a gentleman, announcing himself as Count Zepplin, visited Eckener where he was living in a small place on the Baltic, and asked him why he was opposed to lighter-than-air craft.

"Come with me to Friedrichshafen," said the count, "see for yourself and perhaps you will change your mind." Eckener went—and from that moment became a staunch supporter of the Zepplin idea.

Nothing Wrong With Canada

There is nothing wrong with Canada—has her people, her climate, her resources. She is on the right track, and going strong. It is worthy of note that among her most important purchases from the United States last year was a large amount of electrical machinery to be used in her development of water power for manufacturing purposes. This has enormous resources in water power—the cheapest in the world.

Predicts Great Influx Of American Settlers

Many Plan Emigration To Canada Next Year Says Colonization Agent

That the year 1929 will witness the greatest influx of American settlers into Western Canada that has ever been known in the history of the prairie provinces is the prediction of John Ryan, M. P., and travelling colonization agent for the Canadian Pacific Railway.

During the past year Mr. Ryan brought over 75 families into Saskatchewan from the Dakota, Iowa, Ohio and Minnesota. This number exceeds that of last year and constitutes a record for American farmers or emigrants to this province. The prospects of a large emigration from the United States to Canada during the coming year are exceptionally good, according to Mr. Ryan, who says that the American farmer is being forced north into this country by the war, poor crops and high taxation of his own States.

According to Mr. Ryan, it is becoming impossible for the American farmer to grow the hard wheat that is grown in this country, and the bumper crop produced in 1928 is the last that he will be able to grow. It is a great inducement to the farmer to emigrate from the States. Added to this is the fact that the farmers in the United States have never been able to operate their wheat so successfully as the Canadian farmer.

There are many farming families in the central and northern portions of the United States who are contemplating emigration to Canada, Mr. Ryan said, but they are waiting for a certain amount of capital before they make the change. The American farmer makes the best use of soil for Western Canada, he said. Mr. Ryan when speaking on the subject.

Profit From Milking Herd

Good Profit Can Be Made At All Seasons Of The Year

With a good milking herd and a liberal supply of forage and other foods a good profit can be made in the production of milk at all seasons of the year. During the whole of 1927 record was kept by the superintendent of the Lacombe, Alberta, experimental station, of the weekly production and feed cost of the milk produced from a herd running from eight to nine cows.

The average of the week ending the year from twelve to thirteen cows were milking. The report of the station, published by the Department of Agriculture, at Ottawa, contains an interesting table showing the cost of feed to produce 100 pounds of milk varying from as low as 63 cents to $1.30. From about the end of April to the end of October the cost was less than one dollar a hundred. Without counting other costs, then feed the largest of the herd in milk cost as high as $63 in seven days in the month of June; the lowest profit for the year was for the week ending January 15, when it amounted to $14.54 from the eight cows then giving milk.

The feeds were valued at 14 cents per pound for milk mixture, 44 cents per ton for ensilage; $15 per ton for hay; $4 per ton for cut green feed, and $9 a month per cow for pasture. The meal was mixed and fed in the proportion of 400 pounds rolled oats, 200 pounds bran, and 200 pounds of cake meal. The meal was fed on the basis of one pound of the mixture to every 2 1/2 pounds of milk produced.

Latest Thing In Warfare

Men and Machine Gun Drop By Parachute From Plane

A machine gun crew of six men dropping from the sky and picking up a machine gun, also dropped by parachute from a plane high in the air, and then going into action, is the latest thing in warfare. It was demonstrated to Major-General Sumner, chief of staff, on a recent visit to the air corps primary flying school at Brooks Field, Texas.

While General Sumner and the officers accompanying him were inspecting the field, a bombing plane was making a low pass. Suddenly six men were seen to leave the plane and descend with parachutes. A few seconds later another parachute came over the side of the bomber, and a machine gun floated steadily downward.

The machine gun crew quickly set up their weapon and within three minutes were blazing away at an imaginary enemy. The manoeuvre was staged to demonstrate one of the many elements of surprise made possible by the airplane and the feasibility of landing ground troops quickly from planes.

World's Greatest Fuel

Coal Will Eventually Lead, Says Noted Chemical Engineer

Coal rather than oil will be the predominant source of mechanical energy in industry of the future, according to a report of Arthur D. Little, of Cambridge, Mass., internationally known chemical engineer, who was recently elected president of the Anglo-American Society of the Chemical Industry.

"Coal," says Dr. Little, "is the only resource in sight available in sufficient quantity, as raw material to meet the ultimate demand." On this premise, in part, he bases his conclusion. The other premise is that coal provides an enormous supply, both of power and of valuable by-products for use long at the mine.

Both points he sets forth in his book, "The Handwriting On the Wall," just published, in which he declares that coal, which costs less than $3 a ton at the mine, furnishes fuel to gas at the mine, furnishing the producer with $15 worth of products per ton, and supplying the ultimate consumer with fuel far cheaper than under the present system.

"There should be a way for the home to get its waste more cheaply," he declared, "integrated mining. I think, will reduce waste, stabilize the output, and hold the centres of production longer than otherwise to their present position in the advance of civilization."

Coal, he points out, smelts ores, converts limestone and limestone to steel. It furnishes light and heat and power. Through its distillation coal supplies benzol, toluol, ammonia and phenol for explosives; coke for carbide, acetylene and cyanide; ammonia for explosives and for lubricants; and coal tar for dyes. The distillation of a ton of average coal yields 1,500 pounds of coke, 35,000 cubic feet of gas, 25 pounds of ammonia, and nine gallons of tar.

Played Safe

Bobby: "Daddy A boy at school told me that I looked just like you!"
The Dad: "That so?"—and what did you say?"
Bobby: "Notin'." He was bigger'n me."

Teacher: "What is the hardest thing to learn about farming?"
Student: "Getting up at 5 a.m."

Mr. Trotter: "Have you been to the South?"
Mrs. Nevich: "No, really. Was anyone hurt?"

Another Liner to Visit Lonely Tristan da Cunha

Atlantic liner

Arrival of the liner ship

Lancashire has always been the hot spot of people in isolated communities but it is doubtful whether any place in the Western Hemisphere can compare with the little island of Tristan da Cunha—the "farthest out of the way" of the British Empire—for complete isolation and detachment from the rest of the world. This is, indeed, the largest of a small group lying almost in the middle of the South Atlantic Ocean, on practically a straight line from Buenos Aires, the capital of Argentina, to Cape Town, and is rarely visited except by an occasional cruising liner. Last year the Benguela of France, on her South American-Africa cruise touched Tristan, and landed supplies and

Roses In Alberta

Several Varieties May Be Grown Quite Successfully

A large number of many varieties of roses are grown successfully at the Lacombe, Alberta, Experimental Station. The varieties include Hybrid Perpetuals, Hybrid Teas, Chinas, Polyanthas, and the Rugosas. The report of the superintendent for 1927, published by the Department of Agriculture, at Ottawa, gives in tabular form the variety name, type and description of each kind. The varieties are divided into four groups according to hardiness. Varieties of the first degree of hardiness include the Rugosa, which do not require covering during the winter. Those of the second degree of hardiness include the Persian Yellow, Harrison Yellow, Grouseland, and the yellow, and the American Copper. They are sufficient, in many cases, to grow through the winter without protection. Those of the third degree of hardiness include the Hybrid Perpetuals and Polyanthas. The more tender sorts, including a large number of the Hybrid Teas, are sometimes killed even when well protected, but often come back in good condition.

Experience has taught that the best winter protection for roses in Central Alberta is to bury them in a trench. The branches are tied together, bent over and held in place by a wooden trough which holds the bush in place and prevents it from coming directly in contact with the soil. The soil removed from the trench is used to cover the trough and the bush. When covered in this way, the bushes are enclosed in an air space, and as a result of not coming in direct contact with the moist soil do not contract mildew as when protected in some other ways.

Mr. Coleman, Vice-President of the Canadian Pacific Railway lines west of Port Arthur, has had a remarkable rapidity rise to such a responsible position, but he earned it, for he is known in railway circles as a man of exceptional ability. Born at Carlton Place, Ontario, in 1879, Mr. Coleman joined the C.P.R. as a clerk in the assistant Engineer's Office at Port Williams, in 1899. Rising rapidly he was appointed Superintendent of the Montreal Division in 1912, he was appointed General Superintendent of the Montreal Division in 1915, and in 1916 was appointed Superintendent of the Western Lines. In 1918, when Grand Hall left the West to become first Vice-President in Montreal, Mr. Coleman became Vice-President of the Western Lines.

Different Silages For Dairy Cows

Substitute For Summer Cows Is Mixture Of Oats, Peas and Vetches

In northern sections where corn for silage can not be grown successfully either of two crops may be used as a substitute. Silage from a mixture of oats, peas, and vetches seems to give results about equal to summer silage for feeding dairy cows. These two crops were compared at the Dominion Experimental Station for New Ontario, at Kapuskasing. The superintendent in his report for the year 1927, published by the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, states that the experiment was carried on to determine the relative value of the two silages for milk production. Ten milking cows were selected which were in peak stage of lactation that each would continue milking throughout the following forty-day period which the experimental silage was fed. The silage was silage was interchanged from month to month and accurate records were kept. The results showed that the two silages were equal in value. Experience has taught that the best winter protection for roses in Central Alberta is to bury them in a trench. The branches are tied together, bent over and held in place by a wooden trough which holds the bush in place and prevents it from coming directly in contact with the soil. The soil removed from the trench is used to cover the trough and the bush. When covered in this way, the bushes are enclosed in an air space, and as a result of not coming in direct contact with the moist soil do not contract mildew as when protected in some other ways.

Winter Egg Production

Value Of Beef Scrap And Buttermilk For Feeding Is Compared

In the feeding of poultry at the Lacombe, Alberta, Experimental Station, buttermilk and beef scrap were compared as a source of animal protein for winter egg production. Fens of white Wyandotte pullets were used in the experiment, which lasted from the beginning of November until the end of the following April. Record for buttermilk given to one lot and beef scrap to the other, the ration was the same for the different pens. At the end of the experiment it was found the pens given beef scrap produced slightly better results than those receiving buttermilk, from the standpoint of egg production. The cost per day of egg production was 1.6 cents per dozen in favour of the beef scrap.

The report of the superintendent of this station, published by the Department of Agriculture, at Ottawa, gives the result of many other experiments in the feeding of poultry and to the other investigations and activities being carried on at the Central Alberta Station.

Dairy Industry Flourishing

Cutback Never Appeared Brighter Than At the Present Time

The outlook of the dairy industry in Canada never appeared brighter, says Dr. J. A. Baudette, commissioner of the dairy and cold storage branch of the Department of Agriculture. "The value of our dairy production we have approximately 3,000,000 milk cows in Canada. They are in every province although Ontario and Quebec have the most. While the cheese production is not a record one this year, it is very high. About 400,000 head more will be exported in 1928 than in 1927. Canada produced the most milk in its history this year."

Originated "Great Silence"

Australian Journalist Who Suggests Tribute To War Victims Died In Poverty

At the nation's world market the tenth anniversary of the armistice, Melbourne Herald printed a pathetic story of the origin of "the great silence," which was conceived by an Australian journalist, Edward George Honey, who died in London in 1922.

Mr. Honey, who served with a Midwestern regiment, the story says, in a flash of genius suggested the "great silence" in 1919. At first he phoned friends and a party of engineers was two too long, and a two-minute period was adopted.

The newspaper says that two years after this universal tribute to the war dead was adopted by the nations of the world, Mr. Honey felt a victim of tuberculosis, died in poverty in London, and was buried in a tiny cemetery in Northwood, Middlesex, with only a bare notice in mark of grave.

Protects Against Air Attacks

Germany Has New Gas Which Makes Town Inhabitable

While flying over the town of Balingen, near Stuttgart, Germany, an aviator was surprised to see the townspeople and factories disappear before his eyes. It was during a test being made by German air ministry officials and a party of engineers of the new gas invented by Dr. Redemann, the German gas expert, which makes a city to protect itself from air attacks by rendering it uninhabitable. Ten vessels, containing a secret chemical solution, had been placed about the buildings, and by pressing an electric button Dr. Redemann ignited the chemical, and clouds of smoke 300 feet high covered an area of 500 square yards. At Cuxhaven a large plant is being constructed to store the chemical, with a view to the city in case of war.

New Source Of Electricity

River Must Be Attracting Attention Of Scientists In Europe

Scientists of Europe are taking an interest in reports that it is to be the source of electrical supply at a power station being erected by the German government. The construction programme has gone far beyond the building of the new bridge, and a considerable amount of this year's crop is being marketed over the new tracks. Mr. Coleman pointed out, a feature of the branch line construction was found in the rapidly with which it followed the laying of the steel. Country elevators to the number of approximately 300 were already built or in the course of construction, while in many cases towns were beginning to spring up around the newly erected station buildings.

Daily Newspapers to Adopt New Plan to Double Volume of News Service

Western daily newspaper publishers, members of the Canadian Press, gathered at Calgary recently to consider the practicalization of the new service west of Winnipeg to Victoria, B.C., thus approximately doubling the volume of news service available for western papers. The proposals of the management were approved and an enlarged service will go into effect as soon as the equipment can be assembled, probably in the spring of next year.

Approval was also given to the action of the board of directors at its meeting last month in Toronto in developing and expanding the direct service of British news from London. Recommendations were also made to the board of directors of the development of a service of news of a more interpretive nature covering the provinces with the idea that the different sections of the country would be brought into closer and more intimate relationship, thus making for better service.

The Home Town Paper

Contains More Interesting News Than City Daily

The big hotels in the States think of nearly everything for making an out-of-town guest feel comfortable. One of the items appreciated on getting up in the morning is to find a morning paper pushed under the door.

You can then jump back into bed and read the news instead of having to dress and go downstairs to a newsstand.

A New York hotel has hit upon a variant of this convenience which is sure to make it hit as the guest's idea, at least until the other places follow suit.

Every night the office staff looks in the register where the guests come from. They get papers from an agency which redelivers six hundred different newspapers and J. P. Watson, general manager, Toronto.

Sacred White Elephant

Five Specimens Reported to Have Been Captured in Siam

A sacred white elephant—which in Siam is of great religious and political significance has been found in Changwat Rongkhit, according to reports from the royal family from that province.

The holder of a special elephant catching permit in Changwat Rongkhit has informed officials here that he had captured the elephant in one of the regular "round ups" and that it had been inspected by authorities (here and declared a true white elephant. The ministry of interior immediately dispatched an expert to the district to conduct a formal investigation and the country was driven into a tizzy when he discovered the animal he had.

The local elephant catcher was sorting over a herd which had been driven into a trap when he discovered the animal he had. It was described as a five foot tall male with 15 inch tusks. It is a particularly fine specimen and—after it proves that it is a real white elephant—will be installed with elaborate ceremonies at the capital.

Little Helps For This Week

"According to the eternal purpose."—Ephesians III, 11.

One small life in God's great plan. How little it seems as the ages roll! Do we live, or strive how it can. To alter the sweep of the infinitesimal wheel.

As one stitch in an endless web. A drop in the ocean's flow and ebb. The pattern is rent where we tread. And each life that falls of its true intent. Mars the perfect plan that its Master meant.

—Susan Coogan.

Remember that you are an actor of part much as you are assigned you to play a part of the play; of a short part, if the part be short; of a long part, if the part be long; should be such you are not the part of a beggar, take care to act it naturally and nobly; and the same if it be the part of a lame man or a ruler. For this is in your power, to act well the part assigned to you; but to choose that part is the function of another.

—Epictetus.

Progress Being Made Slowly

Dr. Hugo Eckener, who piloted the Graf Zeppelin to the United States and then back to Germany, told an interviewer the ship was "tailored" for us as "any regular passenger service" is concerned. "We must," he added, "build quicker and stronger airplanes if we are to take up regular passenger service."

The Graf Zeppelin, therefore, has proved to the satisfaction of everybody that it was able to do what the British R-10 did several years ago, and that the end of it, "The Graf" sailed to this continent in about the time of the Mauretania, and sailed home again in a little over a year, under the time of the R-10. It carried a few adventurous passengers, but none in any particular hurry. It moved a little to the right and left, but not enough to frighten stout people of commercial nations. It blazed no new trails, but it revealed no extraordinary improvement over the performance of the old British ship.

Now it is admitted, the newest Zeppelin is useless for passenger traffic. Most people suspected as much. Naturally an airplane which can stay aloft for five days would be a formidable weapon in war, but in peace times one does not see, where the Graf can earn its gas and oil. British dirigibles which are bigger and presumably better, are in the process of construction, and it is hoped they will mark a distinct step forward in lighter-than-air craft.

The United States government is preparing to construct a pair of dirigibles which are to be "the largest in the world," but they will not be ready for some years. Obviously progress is being made slowly, and the vast cost of these lumbering monsters combined with their inevitable frailty make of the dirigible a highly speculative proposition.

Six Thousand Years Old

Fish Found In Sweden Belongs To Later Ice Age

An interesting discovery has just been made in the North of Sweden, where some workmen digging at a distance of 24 feet from the surface came across a curious object embedded in the river mud. It was found to be the remains of a fish belonging to the later Ice Age, and according to geologists, is about 6,000 years old.

World's Most Interesting

An old maid went to confession and told the priest that she had been ardently kissed.

"When did that happen?" said the priest glumly.

"Twenty years ago," the old maid told him.

"Have you ever confessed this before?"

"Many times, father," sighed the priest, "but I just now to talk about it."

Letters are good for blinders, says a dietitian, but they do not specify whether this refers to fish or men.
